

TELLER'S CANDIDACY.

No such inspired wisdom as the nomination of Teller by the Democratic national convention can be expected. Such gatherings, made up of individuals moved by selfishness and personal ambitions, cannot be supposed to verify results that would square up to the high ideals of propriety and poetic justice.

Teller would be an ideal candidate to unite the silver and reform forces. He is a man of wealth, of clean character, of good record in congress, the senate, as Governor, and as secretary of the interior. In the latter capacity he told President Arthur: I do not agree with you on the question of money, railroads and public lands. He accepted the position and his record for the people proved what he told the President.

Yet may we not hope that the utter hopelessness of the Democratic party electing a Democratic president may become the solvent of their selfishness and the anticipation of their ambitions may lead them to do the right thing and nominate Teller? It is estimated he would receive the votes of 1,000,000 silver Republicans, 2,000,000 Populists, 500,000 labor union votes, and 2,000,000 Democratic votes. In 1892 Grover Cleveland had 5,000,000 votes and Teller would beat McKinley by a cool million votes at a popular election tomorrow in a square contest.

But four months intervene and in those 120 days the money interest in American politics will make an awful effort. Every bank will go to work on its debtors; every broker will carefully scan the list of his loans; every corporation that wants to sell securities on a public franchise will receive instructions from foreign money syndicates; every office holder who has fingered a public salary in the past thirty years, who can be persuaded to hope for another pull at the public teat will be appealed to and promised gratification. The purchasable vote will be bought outright and in every county the lists are being prepared to be placed in the hands of trained political procurers. The chance of Teller being nominated is slender. The chance of his election even with a million popular votes in his favor can be nullified by the jackals of American politics, and there lies the danger.

Indications are that there will be a large attendance from Marion county at the McMinville State Convention of the Union bimetallic party on Thursday. It will be a historical gathering in one sense. For the first time since 1860 when people assembled in the cause of the Union, the people are again called to assemble in a united effort for the overthrow of the selfish money power in American politics.

Men will come together at McMinville whose votes and influence have opposed each other in the past. There will be no fusion but a grand and glorious harmony of the poor and plain common people who have neither wealth nor official emoluments, but who have only the privilege of voting and paying taxes on what does not belong to them.

A grand roll of honor should be kept of all who attend the McMinville convention. Men who in the hour of greed and pride, the day of triumph for cold cash, corporations, syndicates and trusts, will lay aside the breadbasket politics that have become a curse to our country, and lay aside party associations of a lifetime—such men deserve to be recorded as heroes in the political history of Oregon.

The Discovery Saved His Life. Mr. G. Callioates, Druggist, Beaverville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent down a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at Fred A. Legg's Drug Store.

THE GOLD THREAT.

"How about the farmer whose holdings are mortgaged? If his mortgage is payable in gold, where will he get the gold? If it is payable in money, does he suppose for a moment that, if the mortgage is due, the creditor will wait for payment until silver goes down and gold goes up? The very moment that a free-silver bill enacted by congress, a call would be made for mortgage payments. Foreclosures would be the order of the day, in order that a few silver-mine owners may obtain at government expense two prices for their metal."—Oregonian.

How would silver mine owners get two prices, Under free coinage the government would buy no silver. Our opinion is the foreclosures will begin in the fall anyhow. The gold threat is very inconsistent. The gold men admit there is ten times as much indebtedness as there ever can be gold to pay it with. Then they say to make money plentiful, vote to redeem not only the debts, but all the other paper and silver money must be redeemed in gold too!

Treating money only as a commodity, under the law of supply and demand, the fallacy of the gold proposition is laid bare when we realize that we are to double the demand for gold by not only paying all debts in it, but also floating all silver and paper on gold only. Will that make it easier for the man who owes a mortgage to get gold? Only, verily!

The only way to relieve the awful curse and burden of the gold standard, is to make gold cheaper and easier to get by remonetizing silver. As the price of wheat goes down in the presence of a new crop, so when we quit redeeming our silver in gold, and restore the money function of silver itself, we shall make gold cheaper and easier for the creditor to get.

OUR EXPENDITURES.

The congress just adjourned—two-thirds Republican and senate under Republican control—appropriated $515,984,820. During the year 1890 the census shows that the total expenditure of all states, counties, cities, and municipal organizations was $569,252,634.

Add the two sums together and they make $1,085,237,454.49, a sum beyond the expenditures of any government in the world for one year. Next to our country comes Russia with $885,005,996, France $690,184,119, Great Britain $469,592,105.

In per capita cost of government our country more than doubles England and quadruples any other country. And the question arises, are we not paying too dearly for the whistle. It costs a great deal. Is our state, county and city government worth what it costs?

AN UNWISE POLICY.

A great many citizens of all parties have called to express their condemnation of the reported remark of a Salem business man to the effect that he had no use for the JOURNAL—that it was now a Populist paper because it advocates silver.

THE JOURNAL will not give these inquirers the name of the Salem business man. It is unwise and foolish to denounce people for their political views. Because he strikes at this paper and would strike down all who differ with him in politics, is no reason why others should.

THE JOURNAL maintains a costly telegraph service to give the people news from an unbiased standpoint. Salem has no Democratic or Independent daily. The Post has just expired after a two year's struggle. The people are sustaining THE JOURNAL in its effort to give them an independent newspaper.

How's This. We offer One Hundred Dollars reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

WEATHER AND CROPS.

Following is crop and weather bulletin for week ending July 6, '96. The temperature for the past week has averaged 68 degrees, the same as the week before. The past week had not the extreme heat of the preceding week; the maximum or heat of day temperature ranged from 72 to 90 degrees, while the night temperature ranged from 50 to 60 degrees.

Crops—The warm, dry weather has been unfavorable to late-sown grains and to gardens. Fall and winter-sown grain withstands the "warm dry weather" though it, too, would be benefited by rain, for it would allow the heads to fill better. The late-sown grain is in fair condition, while that sown after the middle of May is in very poor condition. The dry weather is not favorable to the berry crop, though the crop is in good condition, and very prolific. Corn is growing finely; it, too, would be benefited by rain. The weather is very fine for hay, and the hay crop is being harvested in good form. The late spring rains produced a heavy crop, and many fields of clover hay are yielding five tons to the acre. Wheat and oats hay are also heavy, as well as timothy, orchard grass and cheat hay.
